NEW SILK MILL WILL BE BUILT

CORNER OF DIVISION STREET AND FILMORE AVENUE.

Transfer of the Land Was Made Yesterday by the Attorneys Representing Both Parties—Presentation of Resolutions—Large Number of Accidents Reported—Three Funerals Yesterday—Alumni Defeated Wyoming Seminary—Notes and Personal.

The proposed new silk mill for West Scranton, which was mentioned in this department a week ago, is now assured, the deal for a site having been consummated yesterday. W. H. Ashley, of Hackettstown, N. J., the promoter, has purchased two lots at the corner of Division street and Filmore avenue.

It is expected that ground will be broken for the erection of the buildings at once, and that they will be ready for occupancy inside of three months. The land was purchased from W. H. Davis, the negotiations having been completed by Attorney Charles E. Daniels for Mr. Ashley, and Attorney H. L. Taylor for Mr. Davis.

Mr. Ashley, who has been in the city for several days, is negotiating with contractors for the erection of the necessary buildings, which will be two stories high and of brick. The plant will be equipped with about $35,000 worth of silk manufacturing machinery, and this will be increased as the business increases.

Steam and electricity will be used in operating the mill, and employment will be provided for about one hundred and fifty women. Mr. Ashley now has in operation mills at Hackettstown, N. J., Phillipsburg, N. J., and Avoca, Pa., all of which are running to their capacity. He says that he already has a market for the product of the proposed mill.

This industry has been secured through the efforts of the West Side board of trade, the members of which have been instrumental in floating bonds for the erection of the mill. A stock company will be organized in a few days, and other necessary details will be arranged.
